† Anthem Text †

God Gives the Song

When time sweeps yesterday away, it leaves behind an empty heart, weeping through the night so dark and long. When words are lost among the tears, when sadness steals another day, God hears our cries and turns our sighs into a song.

Sing to the One who mends our broken hearts with music. Sing to the One who fills our empty hearts with love. Sing to the One who gives us light to step into the darkest night. Sing to the One who turns our sighs into a song.

From heaven falls a mercy sweet, the time for weeping now is gone; God hears our sighs and gives us His eternal song.

Sing to the One who mends our broken hearts with music. Sing to the One who fills our empty hearts with love. Sing to the One who gives us light to step into the darkest night. Sing to the One who turns our sighs into a song.

Sing to the God who turns our sighs into a song.

† Missions Moment †

S. is about three years old and was my buddy this summer. He is one of the cutest children you will ever meet, but he requires a buddy to watch him all the time. When I would tell people they need to watch him or he'll start to get into the crafts or something like that, they usually thought it was cute or no big deal. But, next thing you know, he's got rocks and is throwing them at people. So yes, S. needed one-on-one care.

Throughout my summer, it was more or less a battle to see if I could keep S. entertained long enough so he didn't hurt himself or hurt others. And what got me every time is how happy he was to see me and how sad he looked when I left.

I believe that S. will grow out of his toddler phase, and my prayer for him is that he understands that he is loved. He is loved by his community and he is loved by God.

Interacting with S. has given me more insight on God. While I do love S., there are days when it was hard to love S. The idea that God loves each of us just as much on our worst days as on our best days will never cease to astound me. Not only does God love us through our highs and lows, but God loves every person as much as the next.
